DETAILED ACTION

PLEASE NOTE: A new examiner, Amar Movva, has been assigned to this case.

Applicant is advised to note the revised contact information in the Conclusion section of this office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1,11-16, 21-24 and 37-45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Takafuji '578.

a. Regarding claims 1 and 11-16, Takafuji discloses in figure 3, a TFT formed over a substrate; an active layer 4 formed in the TFT; and a first/second region, just above the line drawn as the small letter 1; a second/first region, the lower region below the line drawn below the capital letter L, and a third region, the region between said two regions, formed in the active layer, the third region being formed between the first region and the second region, wherein the third region has a first and second width (both w, fig. 3) wherein the third region includes a channel forming region, wherein a first and second width of the third region is narrower than a width of the first region and a width of the second region, as can be seen in the figure, wherein each of the first and second width of the third region, the width of the first region and the width of the second region is a length in a direction perpendicular to a carrier flow direction, i.e., from source to drain, and wherein a portion of the third region is convexed or concaved in the direction perpendicular to the carrier flow direction, i.e., the width shown in the figure.

b. Regarding claims 21-24 and 37-45, Takafuji discloses the limitations above and noting that the above mentioned definition of the first region can be alternatively be the definition of the second region, and vice versa, either of those regions could be either the source, or drain, while the other region would be the drain, or source, accordingly.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2, 3, 19, 20 and 25-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Takafuji in view of the Takenaka '676.

- a. Takafuji discloses the device of claim 1 but does not expressly disclose a zero or one grain boundary in the channel forming region.
- b. Takenaka discloses in the abstract that the grain boundary in the channel region of a transistor is limited to one.

- c. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to limit the grain boundary of the channel region to one or zero in order to avoid undesired transistor behavior that results from the presence of grain boundaries in the channel region.
- 2. Claims 10 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Takafuji in view of the Nakayama '338.
 - a. Takafuji discloses the device of claim 1 and 16 but does not expressly disclose the thin film transistor is incorporated in to electronic devices such as camera.
 - b. Nakayama discloses thin film transistor used in digital camera and personal computer (see the second paragraph below the abstract).
 - c. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to use the thin film transistor in the devices such as cameras so those devices have electronic components with improved characteristics.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
